Only journals from INFORMS guarantee these important benefits:

- Authoritative content. INFORMS journals are relevant, timely, and rigorously peer reviewed. These highly specialized publications represent the state of the art in key areas of OR/MS theory and applications.
- Global recognition. INFORMS journals are the most respected, quoted, and used publications in the field of operations research and management science.
- Economical pricing. INFORMS journals are priced to suit the budgets of academic and professional libraries. Our special library rates have been extended for 2001.

I would like the following journals to be stocked on our library shelves. They are essential reading for our OR/MS students and will greatly enhance our curriculum:
